Jean Monnet Actions in the field of Higher Education: Modules, Chairs and Centres of Excellence

Deadline - 12 February at 17:00 (Brussels time)

The Jean Monnet Actions in Higher Education offer a unique opportunity to engage in teaching and research in relation to European Union studies, fostering a deeper understanding of the EU's values and policies. These initiatives encourage active European citizenship by promoting principles such as human dignity, freedom, democracy, equality, the rule of law and human rights. By participating, you can contribute to spreading awareness about EU policies and their impact on daily life while supporting public diplomacy efforts to promote EU values globally. Whether through modules, chairs, or centres of excellence, these actions provide a platform to enhance the EU's visibility and connect with a global audience. You have to be a Higher Education Institution to be eligible. Apply here.

Jean Monnet actions for other Fields of Education and Training

Deadline - 12 February at 17:00 (Brussels time)

To support shared values of freedom, tolerance, and non-discrimination, teachers and trainers across the EU are increasingly seeking professional development opportunities that empower them to create inclusive classrooms, leverage ICT effectively, and teach about the EU in dynamic and engaging ways. This is why this action can be helpful to you if you're a higher education institution or a teacher training/education institution providing initial and/or in service training to teachers in schools and/or VET institutions. By participating in these initiatives, you can help address gaps in knowledge, counter disinformation, and combat the growing disenchantment surrounding the Union and its policies. Take this opportunity to play a vital role in shaping informed and engaged future citizens. To apply click here.
